Dear GAN JIA RIANG, NRIC: TXXXXX14H,

I am writing this letter to express my sincere appreciation and commendation for GAN JIA RIANG, who recently completed an internship at Sky & F Pte. Ltd. Your proactive and enthusiastic approach, coupled with your eagerness to learn and take on new responsibilities, have made a significant impact on our team and the overall success of our organization.

What sets him apart is not only his level of knowledge of the locations but also his patience in listening to concerns, addressing each one with utmost care and attention to detail. I was particularly impressed by his commitment to ensuring complete satisfaction, offering viable solutions, and providing additional assistance where needed. You've proven to be adaptive and persistent in seeking opportunities to broaden your skill set and assume more responsibility.

Additionally, your drive to learn and grow within your role has also been encouraging. Through official training, independent study, or asking more seasoned coworkers for advice, you proactively seek out new information and abilities. Your ability to pick up new ideas quickly and apply them to your regular job demonstrates your dedication to continual improvement. Not only has your eagerness to learn helped you personally, but it has also had a great impact on the entire team.

Your peers highly appreciate your helpful and supportive nature. You consistently offer your assistance and go out of your way to ensure the success of collaborative projects. Your willingness to share your knowledge and support others in their professional development is a testament to your teamwork and the positive work environment you help foster.

I want to express my deepest appreciation for your great sense of professionalism and integrity. Your consistent adherence to company policies, maintenance of confidentiality, and respectful interaction with colleagues, clients, and other stakeholders make you an invaluable member of the UPS/ATS team.

Congratulations on your well-deserved commendation and I am confident that you will continue to achieve great success in your professional endeavors.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline NG
